Maze Runner is a wonderful book because of all thought put into it. It was just a great book overall and I loved reading it. I liked it because the book had a great storyline, characters, and funny comments throughout the book. Who could go wrong with that? I know James Dashner didn't.

The storyline had a great setting called the Maze. This was an experiment in which they would place kids with high intellect to try and solve it. Two years passed and the maze had no end but they kept trying different ways to solve it. In the end a boy named Thomas figured out the Maze and got them out but was the Maze safer than the actual world?

Thomas was the main character in the story and his best friend Chuck. Newt, Alby, and Minho were the main leaders of the group they called the Gladers. Thomas's enemies were Gally and Ben (who were kind of psychotic). Chuck and Thomas had a funny relationship throughout the book. Thomas liked Chuck but thought he was so annoying at times he could hit him. Chuck and he would throw sarcastic comments back and forth. Alby also had some great lines that made me laugh. Overall it was hilarious book.

Maze Runner is a book for 8 and up. This book has no cursing but has shank and klunk (poo) but otherwise it's a good book. I would definitely buy this book. Hope you guys read it.
